If you wish to receive services, enter into a contract, or establish any legal relationship with the Group of Companies, the Group must collect your personal data. If you do not provide your personal data to the Group, the Group may not be able to enter into a contract with you, process any requests you make, or perform duties under the contract, agreement, or legal relationship, including complying with any legal obligations that the Group is required to follow.

If you provide personal data of another person to the Group, you confirm that the said person has reviewed this Personal Data Protection Policy and has given consent to the processing of their personal data according to this policy (in cases where there is no legal basis for processing). You must provide a consent letter from that person to the Group upon request.

2. Data collected before the Personal Data Protection Act takes effect

For personal data collected before June 1, 2022, the Group will handle such data in compliance with the Personal Data Protection Act. If you do not wish the Group to continue collecting and using such personal data, you may withdraw your consent at any time by contacting the Group or the Data Protection Officer as detailed in section 9.

3. Collection of personal data

The Group may collect your personal data directly from you or from other sources as follows:

- 3.1 Group affiliated companies

7. Your Rights

You have the rights as specified in the Personal Data Protection Act (PDPA) as follows:

7.1 Right to Access and Obtain Copies:

You have the right to access or request a copy of your personal data that the Group has collected, used, or disclosed. You can also request disclosure of personal data obtained without your consent.

7.2 Right to Receive and Transfer Personal Data:

You have the right to request your personal data in a format that is readable or usable by common tools or automated devices, and that can be used or disclosed automatically. You may also request the Group to send or transfer your personal data to a third party or to receive personal data that the Group has transferred to a third party, unless technically not feasible. This applies to personal data collected, used, or disclosed under your consent, contract basis, or other legal criteria.

7.3 Right to Object:

You have the right to object to the collection, use, and disclosure of your personal data when the Group processes data based on public interest, legitimate interest, or for purposes of direct marketing, scientific, historical, or statistical research.

7.4 Right to Request Deletion:

You have the right to request the Group to delete or destroy your personal data or make it anonymous so that you cannot be identified.

7.5 Right to Request Suspension of Use:

You have the right to request the Group to suspend the use of your personal data while your request to correct or object to the collection, use, or disclosure is being reviewed. You may also request suspension instead of deletion if the data is no longer necessary but needs to be retained for legal claims, compliance, or defense.

7.6 Right to Correction:

You have the right to request correction of your personal data to be accurate, current, and not misleading.

7.7 Right to File Complaints:

You have the right to file complaints with the Personal Data Protection Committee of Thailand if the Group, its employees, or contractors violate or fail to comply with the PDPA.

7.8 Right to Withdraw Consent:

You have the right to withdraw any consent you have given to the Group at any time, either partially for some purposes or entirely, according to the procedures and methods specified by the Group. However, withdrawing your consent will not affect the lawful collection, use, or disclosure of your personal data that occurred prior to your withdrawal.

You may exercise these rights by contacting the Group or the data protection officer as detailed in section 9. Please note that withdrawing your consent may affect the Group's ability to fulfill certain requests or may reduce the convenience of the services provided to you. Nevertheless, withdrawing consent will not affect the personal data processing lawfully done before the withdrawal.

For the benefit and protection of your personal data, the Group may refuse your requests in the following cases:

- (a) The requester cannot provide evidence confirming they are the data subject or authorized to make the request, or the Group does not receive sufficient information to proceed, to strictly protect the personal data of the data subject.
- (b) The request is unreasonable, for example, the requester has no legal right or the personal data requested does not exist with the Group.
- (c) The request is excessive, such as repeated or identical requests without reasonable cause.
- (d) The Group has the right to refuse your request under the Personal Data Protection Act and/or other relevant laws.

8. Privacy Policy

The Group has published a Privacy Policy which outlines general information regarding the collection, use, or disclosure of all types of personal data of data subjects, as well as other details such as cross-border data transfers, cookies, and personal data security measures. The provisions in the Privacy Policy shall apply in addition to the Personal Data Protection Policy and shall not cancel, replace, or modify any terms in the Personal Data Protection Policy.

In the event of any conflicting or inconsistent provisions, the terms of the Personal Data Protection Policy shall prevail, as the Group has provided it for your consideration and consent specifically.

Please review the Privacy Policy at www.bangkokchainhospital.com

9. Contacting the Group
